

On Jr. High School

Survey Committee Presents Proposals

Members of the Arlington School Survey Committee presented a report to the Board of Selectmen Monday night, that stated that the committee has found the junior high schools in Arlington are now overcrowded, and that in two years the problem promises to be of disaster proportions. The Committee, after studying the needs of Arlington schools for one year, has found that now there are 494 pupils at the East, and 846 at Junior High West. Estimates based on number of students now in lower grades indicate that in 1969-1970 the figures will rise to 517 in the East, and 931 at the West. Present capacities at the schools are 525 at Junior High East, and 850 at the West.

The survey committee points out that both junior high schools can hold at maximum of 1,400 pupils. Estimates for 1972-1973 will be nearly 1,600 pupils.

Committee members informed the selectmen that they are recommending the following:

—The immediate construction of a third junior high school.

—The immediate razing of the oldest section of Junior High West, and its replacement with a new wing.

The immediate extensive renovation of Junior High East.

That a site be selected by June 1, 1968.

That the Town Meeting appoint a building committee to consider the design of these buildings needs simultaneously.

That the Town Meeting appoint a committee to investigate ways in which all public building plans and proposals be coordinated, and that the School Committee and School Department consider ways of improving the quality of long range school planning.

2,500 Capacity

If the recommendation of the survey committee were carried out, Arlington junior high schools would have a capacity of 2,500 students.

Selectmen Arthur Saul, chairman of the Arlington Board of Selectmen, questioned Dr. David Purpel, survey committee chairman, as to whether or not the town

We're "Swamped" with MBTA Returns

Staff members of the Arlington Advocate look over a number of early returns to the Advocate's M.B.T.A. poll. They are, l. to r., Dorothy DiFazio, Margaret Chisholm, Norma Vanaskie, Anne Lindberg, Jean Burg, Alma Brown, Mary Kelly, Jean Robicheau, and Angie Cavicchi.

Did you fill out the Arlington Advocate M.B.T.A. questionnaire last week? Did you mail it?

If you didn't only three days remain to do so. And if you intended to fill out the questionnaire but did not, for your convenience the questionnaire has been reprinted on page two of this week's edition.

Comments received to date have been many and varied. One resident who reported the service as "excellent" stated that the service could be improved by giving the M.B.T.A. "a pat on the back."

Another, who felt that the service was "poor," advocated withholding of payment

Withdrawal Date Monday

Twenty Candidates Seek Office In March Election

Arlington voters apparently will go to the polls on Saturday, March 2, to elect eight of 20 candidates to town office for three and five year terms of office.

With the final date for withdrawal scheduled for Monday, it now appears that all 20 candidates in the battle will remain in.

The 20 filed papers prior to the deadline last Saturday, with only William Bercury, who had previously taken out papers for Housing Authority dropping from the race.

As the situation stands now, Lawrence E. Corcoran, 146 George st., is the only incumbent running unopposed. He seeks a three year term as Town Moderator.

Incumbent Selectman Arthur D. Saul, Jr., 24 Gray st., is opposed for a three year term by Thelma D. Lopez, 101 Park ave. ext.

Seeking the three year term as members of the School Committee are three incumbents: Velma Brown, 45 Cleveland st.; Doris M. Cremins, 64 Mt. Vernon st.; and John P. Morine, 12 Frost st. and Martin D. Haske, 11 Old Colony lane. Richard Leibowitz, 42 Ashland st. and Albert Woodin, 18 Highland ave.

John B. Byrne, Jr., 7 Bacon st., Mary A. Farrington, 32 Rawson rd., Walter D. Shaw, 78 Thorndike st. and John J. Stanton, 10 Sunset rd., are seeking election to a three year term as Town Clerk.

Incumbent Walter S. Coolidge, Jr., 82 Deveau st., is opposed for a three year term by Philip G. Clark, 20 Ernest rd. and Claude A. Lopez, 11 Cornell st.

Seeking a five year term on the Housing Authority are incumbent Edward J. Doherty, 99 Bow st., James A. Coffey, 19 Burch st., John F. Cusack, 20 Pine Ridge rd., and Joseph S. Daly, 143 Washington st.

Default warrants were issued in Cambridge District Court Saturday against three Cambridge men who failed to appear for a scheduled arraignment on charges stemming from their arrest in Arlington early Saturday morning.

A fourth Cambridge resident appeared in court and had his case continued to Feb. 15.

According to Arlington police, two suspects were apprehended in the truck near the Arlington and Cambridge line, and two men were arrested in an alleged follow-up vehicle.

The truck was loaded with a supply of copper tubing owned by the company.

The truck and supplies were valued at $10,000.

At Arlington police headquarters each of the four was charged with two counts of larceny and one count of suspicion of larceny.

They were released on $3,000 bail each.

That Ice and Snow

This is the time of the year all parents should fear. Poetry, true, but its not the least bit amusing. For reasons unknown, late January and early February produce contrasting periods of thaws and heavy snowfall.

As a result the youngsters of Arlington and all over the New England area for that matter are open to serious accidents and injury and even death.

Take this year for a prime example. The heavy-heavy snow fall of late December and early January, just hasn't melted, and the lesser amounts of snow which have fallen, combined with contrasting temperatures have caused many frozen piles of snow throughout the community and dangerous skating conditions under others.

Snow is still piled high along many roadways throughout the community, and there are many icy driveways which lead themselves to good sliding.

We wonder if our Arlington parents know about all these things.

If they don't they should. All parents with youngsters should know the dangers existing now in Arlington.

The driver, it seems will be blamed regardless of the circumstances. But will it be his fault?

The parent, who is not keeping a close check on the youngster will say, it was the driver's fault.

But, let's check the situation more closely. The snow piles are high on the side of the road. The driver can not always see an adult coming out of a walk, let alone a small boy or girl on a sled coming from a driveway or a youngster suddenly sliding down the bank toward the roadway.

At the same time, ice conditions on ponds and all kinds of frozen water areas are very treacherous with the constant melting and freezing.

You as a parent owe it to yourself and to your children to make certain they are sliding and skating in locations where these dangers do not exist.

Talk Around Town

In answer to a question—the Arlington "men-in-blue" have no walkie-talkie communication devices at the present time, but funds to purchase such equipment is being requested in the budget at the annual Town Meeting.

Ten are requested at this time—seven for the police department and an additional three for the fire department.

A progressive business is Arlington Furniture on Mass. ave., Arlington Center. In business just five years, this company is in the process of remodeling.

The Arlington fire department will soon have a new ladder truck.

The old Ladder One has been disposed of, and the ladder from the Highland station has been brought to the Center station.

Meanwhile, the new equipment is on order and is expected for use at any time.

Mrs. Edward T. Downey of Arlington is the chairman of "Sports Night" during the special evening for gentlemen planned by the Junior Guild of the Infant Saviour, Feb. 6, at the Sidney Hill Country Club.

That little "closer" in the latest Kiwanis Club flyer caught our eye and should catch yours too.

"Don't send your family to church—Take Them!"

Time flies and Friday is Ground Hog Day again. The old story has it that should the little fella see his shadow when he arises from his winter home early in the morning, we are in for six more weeks of winter.

For being frightened at the sight he will return underground. On the other hand if the weather should be cloudy he will decide then and there that winter has had it for another year.

Several Arlington residents are among the sponsors of an experimental film premiere to be presented by the Radcliffe Club of Boston at the Loeb Drama Center, Cambridge, Feb. 12.

Included are Mr. and Mrs. John B. Fox, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald F. Mahoney, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. John J. Russell, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Gordon A. Speedie and Dr. and Mrs. Alfred Yood.

For those interested in fashions—Linda's Knit Shop in Arlington Heights will hold a Fashion Show, Saturday afternoon.

DUMP TRUCK
A commercial dump truck caught fire on Mystic st., Jan. 24, causing a traffic tie-up during the evening rush-hour traffic.

Debris on the truck, owned by the Ace Disposal Co. of Woburn, caught fire shortly after 5 p.m. on Mystic st. near Davis ave.

The burning rubbish was dumped onto the street and two Arlington fire department engine companies extinguished the blaze.

A PRIZE WINNER
Michael Dwyer of Arlington recently returned from a three-day holiday which he won as a prize at a dance held at Bryant and Stratton, 150 Newbury st., Boston.

Mr. Dwyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Dwyer, 29 Acton st., was one of 25 students winning prizes.

Mr. Dwyer is presently majoring in the Business Data Processing Program at Bryant and Stratton, a junior college of business.

COLLINS CORNER

Hope springs eternal in the minds of Men witnessed by nearly 1,500 baseball fans sitting down to the Baseball Writers banquet last week at the Sheraton-Boston Hotel. This was the largest ever held in the 29 years they have been conducting these affairs, and the "Impossible Year" made it so attractive.

It is 50 years since the Red Sox have won a World Series, but year after year these loyal fans turn out to honor the players, and since it was back in 1946 when they last won the American League pennant the Town is still talking about last season.

Maybe it is because the years have gone along so quickly, but the heroes of today really look like a group of College boys, and of course they are, in many cases, and it is hard to figure them performing so wonderfully well on the field. But there is no substitute for youth when it comes to physical activity, and today a baseball scout wants to look at a boy of 18 or 19, because when some ball players attain the old age of 28 or 30 they are on their way out.

Time has been kind to many of the old time players, and except for touches of white in their hair they still are a well put-together group of athletes. Yes, when a group of men can gather to talk baseball in January, it can truthfully be said that the country is on solid ground.

Some former Arlington writers who graced the table in former years have moved on to greener fields, and the names of Herman Nickerson, Burt Whitman, Larry Sweeney, George and Tom Carens, Walter Grannan, Arthur Duffy come to mind, plus those who while not residents of our Town were read by thousands over the year—Bill Cunningham, Dave Egan, Bill Grimes, Fred Hoey, Austin Lake, Ralph Wheeler, Mel Webb and many others.

George Carens and Austin Lake worked for years on the Boston Transcript, and that was a very influential paper among those who were endowed quite well in worldly goods, and it is said that a Dowager on Beacon Hill held an interview with the press of Boston, and they all arrived together at the appointed time.

The Butler greeted them at the door and announced, saying, Madam, eight reporters, and a gentleman from the Transcript. But like many newspapers it is only a memory, but it had a good sport page, and some fine writers. Baseball took a long time to take its head out of the sand, and live up to the title 'The National Pastime,' which was a misnomer in every sense of the word, because until 1947 Negro ball players were barred from the Major Leagues, and finally Jackie Robinson arrived in the National League and the next year Larry Doby came to the American League.

So when one looked up at the Head Table and saw Bob Gibson, George Scott, Joe Foy, John Wyatt, Elston Howard, Frank Robinson, and Reggie Smith all decked out in Tuxedos, then you know that Baseball has grown up.

And up in Cooperstown, New York, the Hall of Fame is enshrined the name of Jackie Robinson. Prejudice is on the way out, and Spring is here. One of the happy notes at the dinner, no one mentioned Football, the almost year round sport, now competing with Horse Racing.

So when one looked up at the Head Table and saw Bob Gibson, George Scott, Joe Foy, John Wyatt, Elston Howard, Frank Robinson, and Reggie Smith all decked out in Tuxedos, then you know that Baseball has grown up.

That Man About Town

MAT will get to it. The Boss gets more impatient than some of the readers.

This column can talk about only so many subjects a week. But every day there's a call or a note from someone about something that should be in the MAT column.

This is all appreciated—and it will be taken care of as soon as possible.

So Boss how about a couple of items that have come up since last week's paper went to press.

Trash cans are as good as any place to start.

When the new rubbish removal system went into operation last year, residents of town were asked to place their trash in cans of some type.

Paper bags were out.

Now some of the folks are unhappy with the way the trash cans have been left after the trucks have vanished the scene.

To the Editor:

In this week's issue of the Advocate (Jan. 25) that Man about Town, Mat, was wondering about what is going to happen in the great Meadows.

As a simple uninformed housewife I too am wondering about several things in Arlington.

For instance is Arlington paying taxes to Lexington for this land? If so why couldn't Arlington make a deal with Lexington in return for the free bus service it receives from Arlington?

Why have a golf course in the Meadows? Will the majority of Arlington residents go golfing to Lexington?

Will it be another "free" service for Lexington having a golf course and clubhouse in the town?

Why can't Arlington have a beautiful skating rink like the one that has just been put up in Stoneham?

Like the one they have in Dorchester?

Like the one they have in Brighton or Cambridge?

How come Dorchester is to have such an expensive zoo addition when Arlington can't have a skating rink?

As I said I am just an uninformed, humble housewife with no young children or teenagers, but I too have been wondering.

To the Editor:

The letter by Thelma Lopez in this week's Advocate (Jan. 25) was wonderful! She expressed some of the ideas which have been in my mind lately—but I could never have summed them up as she did.

Lately I have felt terribly sorry for the disgusting and unpatriotic attitude towards the president of our great country. Never in our country's history has a president been so insulted in every way—and his lovely gentle wife—who is truly named "Lady" Bird.

Be he right or wrong there should be less of this unprincipled, juvenile-type of abuse he has been receiving. Thank you, Mrs. Lopez, for that letter!

Signed:

"A Republican" (Name Withheld)

To Mr. and Mrs. James A. Schipani (Elizabeth DeYoung), 53 Pleasant View rd., a daughter, Dec. 29 at Symmes Hospital.

fully realize the problems of increasing taxes. They also know that the greens fees and membership dues of the course will retire any revenue bonds, pay for the upkeep and maintenance and provide for capital improvements. These facts will be substantiated and expanded by the National Golf Foundation.

Suitable land area is one of the most important and costly items in the creation of a golf course. The Town of Arlington seems to have that problem in reverse. What to do with available land that is suitable for a golf course? Why not pursue the issue to a conclusion in which all of the general public can take pride?

Sincerely,

John J. McLaughlin

It appears that some of the cans are being dropped on snow-banks from which point they roll gently but firmly onto the street.

The unhappy ones feel their trash cans are getting dented, maybe even hit by cars—and they feel—furthermore that rolling trash cans are a menace to cars.

Another subject which has been brought to MAT's attention is that some of the snow piles in the vicinity of some of the Town's schools are still snow piles—and they shouldn't be.

Evidently, these present a danger to our youngsters coming or going to class in that they must either go around the piles or climb up and then slide down—both of which are dangerous.

The next item is a question: "When are you going to talk a little about the political picture?"

"Next week for sure" is the answer.

Monday, Feb. 5, is the final day for withdrawal for anyone who has already had enough politics for one year.

The only prediction this early is that no one will withdraw.

A Time For Serious Thoughts Of Work

This is the time of year many ambitious young adults give serious thoughts to summer employment. In this regard there is an ever increasing number of positions needed as Senior Life Guards and Water Safety Instructors.

Recognizing this, the Boys' Club will begin a Senior Life Saving Course, under the direction of Aquatic Director Donald Fray, Feb. 13 at 6:30 p.m. and continue on every Tuesday and Thursday for several weeks.

The course is available to females as well as males providing they meet the following requirements:

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE
"Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and thy neighbour as thyself."

This verse from the tenth chapter of Luke is the Golden Text for the Lesson Sermon on "Love" to be read in all Christian Science churches Sunday.

Sunday services and Sunday school are held in the church edifice at 10:45 a.m. at Mass. Ave. and Waterhouse st., Cambridge.

At least 16 years of age
A better than average swimmer, i.e. a test will be conducted at the first session.

A member of the Arlington Boys' Club. Those interested are to enroll at the Boys' Club no later than Feb. 10.

A Water Safety Instructors Course will begin approximately April 1, 1968.

Further information, in this regard, will appear in this newspaper.

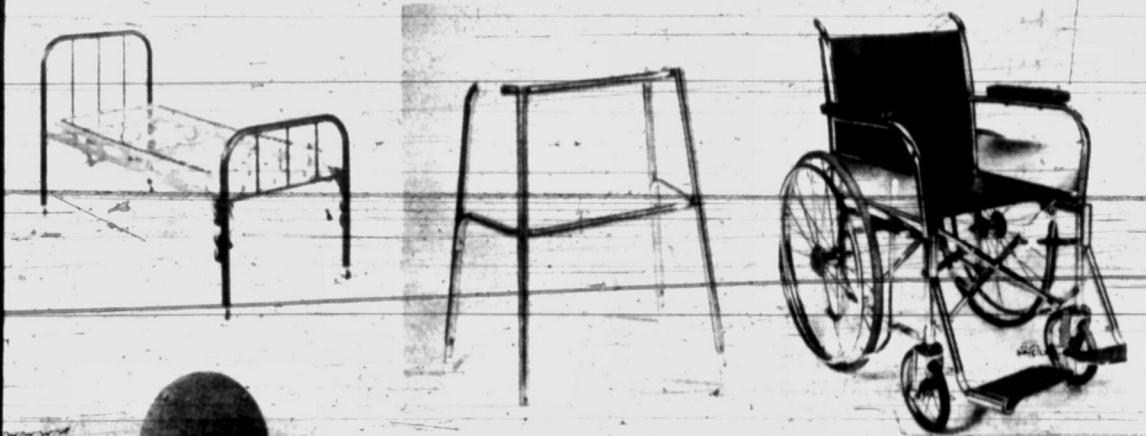

It is with sincere regret that the Boys' Club will discontinue its swimming program for physically handicapped children, Feb. 1, 1968.

Those few who are still interested may participate on Saturday mornings, beginning February 3, 1968 at 9:15 a.m. with another group of exceptional children.

If and when the need arises, the Boys' Club will be only too happy to reconsider relative to this decision. A note of public gratitude to the many volunteers who assisted with this fine program for the past several years. Charles Carnell, William Bonin and William Sheehan deserve a special "tip of the hat" for their interest and efforts.

"Organdy Mist" Group in Jaycee Band Battle

The group known as "The Organdy Mist" will be one of the featured bands at the "Battle of the Bands" finale at the Junior High West.

This group was one of the three bands selected in the Oct. 14 contest and looks forward to the chance to compete against the other contestants for the right to represent Arlington in the Regional contest to be held in Waltham.

The "Mist" as they are known to some are a group that plans their performance on a basis of musical quality and communications through certain songs and groups of songs. The style is related to the members and has some form of identity with each individual which is increasing as the group becomes "tighter" musically.

The group has six members although only five play instruments. They include Dennis Falwell who is the groups solo singer. Dennis is a senior at Arlington High school and plans to enter into some form of a musical career. Bill Bailey is the many talented member of the group playing the guitar, the organ, and the trumpet. He also on the side plays the baritone horn, the jews harp, and the banjo. Bill is a senior at Arlington High school. Pat Tassone plays the drums for the "Organdy Mist".

Pat, like most of the group, is intent on furthering some sort of musical unity. Larry

Flint is the group's spokesman and catalyst.

A senior at Arlington High school, Larry plays the guitar. Dennis Perkins is the group's lead guitarist and does occasional vocal numbers. A post-graduate student at Arlington High school, Dennis is planning on attending Northeastern next fall.

A relatively new member is Caleb Rogers. A serious and intent performer, Caleb is looking forward along with the rest of the group to the forthcoming contest.

This is group number three of the contestants who will play for the enjoyment of the youth of the Arlington area, Feb. 24 at the Junior High West under the sponsorship of the Arlington Jaycees.

CUTTER PTA
Mr. Shahzade of Arlington explained the history of the Armenian people to an interested audience at the meeting of the Cutter PTA, recently. A question and answer period was held at the conclusion of the program. Hostesses for the program included Mrs. J. Canejo and Mrs. T. DeRoche.

Red and Gray Jottings

by Jeanne Erlandson and Anne Pidano

Already beginning to plan for the Spring Drama Festival, the A.H.S. Dramatic Club is holding tryouts for parts in their newly-chosen play, "The Shewing of Blanco Posnet" by George Bernard Shaw.

Basically, it is the story of a man accused of stealing horses and his subsequent trial. It will be presented at the Drama Festival held during the end of March, at which time, schools from all parts of Massachusetts will compete.

This will be the first festival for some of the thespians, since, two years ago, the AHS Dramatic Club claimed first place and was not allowed to compete the following year.

Allied Youth held its annual auction on Jan. 18. Presiding as auctioneer, Jack Marshall lent his lively wit to the bargaining. The items ranged anywhere from a straw hat donated by Miss Hutchinson to promissory notes for days off from homework from various teachers. Other interesting items up for bid were two "grotesque" candleholders, one small, blue bicycle, a southern friend chicken dinner at Mrs. Smith-erman's, a flower pin, a yearbook, and a bunch of balloons.

On Jan. 20, the AHS Ski Club sponsored its second trip of the school year, to Mt. Ascutney in N. H. The trip had originally been planned for Sumner, N. H., but because of the unexpected January thaw, the trip had to be moved farther north.

The AHS Debating Club has been having a rather active year.

In addition to traveling to other schools to hold their heated altercations, the club has also received other debating teams at the high school. Recently, they were planning a debate with Salem High; however, Salem defaulted, so the debate was in Arlington's favor.

The A.H.S. Student Council is working on plans for a student lounge. The plans for the lounge, which will be constructed in the Old Hall Building, include tables, sofas, vending machines and sound-proof walls. Although the plans have not yet been okayed, the Student Council is considering various ways of obtaining the furniture, which would prove to be costly.

One way is to ask the different clubs and organizations to donate the articles. Passes to the lounge would only be issued to upperclassmen who would be given the chance to purchase a ticket, holding a given number of passes, at the beginning of each term. Each time someone uses the lounge, one pass would be punched.

By having the passes for sale, the Student Council would be able to maintain the upkeep of the lounge. Also, the lounge would be available to students after school. The plans are expected to go before the school committee in February, during which meeting an answer is also hoped for.

CANDIDATE NIGHT

The Arlington Council of Parent-Teacher Associations will hold their annual School Committee Candidates night at the Robbins Memorial Town Hall, Feb. 15 at 8 p.m. Refreshments will be served.

Further details will be announced next week.

Mr. DiAnthony, Jr., has won many hair-styling contests in 1967 and he certainly began 1968, right. He is the youngest artist to receive this award for 1967 and 1968.

He also designed the costume and his lovely model is Sharon Wilson, a senior at Arlington High stitched it together.

Hawaiian Time

A Hawaiian Luau at the Dallin School was the feature activity in the Park and Recreation Department's Elementary Arts and Crafts Program last week. The program is held in six schools every Saturday morning for 5th and 6th grade girls.

The luau at the Dallin School had a true Hawaiian atmosphere with grass skirts, leis, pineapples, coconuts, and an appropriately decorated room. Each of the 35 girls who attended wore flowers in their hair, enjoyed cookies and candy and, of course, a big glass of Hawaiian Punch.

Denise DeStefano and Cheryl Billafer wore grass skirts. Nancy Savage brought coconuts and Claire Shaughnessy pineapples. All the girls pitched in and made decorations and flowers which made for a pleasant event in the mid-winter season.

The Locke School has been developing budding young artists in recent weeks working with clay, finger paints and ceramic tiles. The most popular craft was a letter holder kit. The crafts, along with games such as dodge ball and various forms of gymnastics, have made for a diversified program.

At the Stratton School creative art projects were the feature. Each girl was given construction paper, ceramic tiles, pipe cleaners, poster paints, glue and scissors and proceeded to make something of their own design. Results were fantastic with Susan Gregor's "Man in Space", Linda Mason's "Underwater Scene" and Rosemary Carey's "Color Swirl" being outstanding. Susan Querze, Stephanie Chalos and Patricia Teevan also made fine projects.

Scrapbooks Big Hit

Scrapbooks were the big hit at the Thompson School made from construction paper and gimp. Prizes were awarded to Sandra Corbett, Joy Brigida and Ellen Quinn, for neatness, creativity and workmanship. Michele Flynn, Karen O'Connor and Gail Agostino, acted as judges. Red Light, Keep Away, and Gymnastics, highlighted the physical end of the program.

Contest day featured the program at the Hardy School. The day commenced with a three-legged race with Mary Corbett and Joyce Tuff the winners, followed closely by Donna Lecease and Linda Chysakes. Linda and Sandy Flynn teamed up to win the wheelbarrow race. Sharon Sullivan prevailed in a game of wordball, and Roberta Papaleo and Sheila Crowley winning the clean-up race to end the day. Leather beanie were the craft project and all the girls did an outstanding job.

The Cutter School spent the past few weeks making calendars. The girls cut out pictures from magazines and pasted them on construction paper to make attractive looking calendars. Volleyball, dodge ball and run the bases, made up the physical program.

Party Held For Children

Arlington's Full Year Head Start's first annual Christmas Party was held at the American Legion Hall, Dec. 17, for the children attending the program and their families. It was a great success.

One hundred and eighteen children attended along with approximately 50 parents. Each child received an educational toy or game from Santa and each of the 28 children of the Head Start program also received a knitted hat and mitten set.

Special guests attending included Mr. Harry McCabe, Arlington Community Action Council President, and his family, Mr. Philip Clark, Program Coordinator for Head Start, and Mr. Joseph Daly, former Program Coordinator.

The hall and facilities were donated by American Legion, Post 39. The Head Start mothers baked the refreshments for the party. Mrs. Norma Walsh, a volunteer for the program, donated coffee and soft drinks.

Boxed Christmas candy and canes were given to each child and were donated by the relatives of Mrs. Eleanor Kilfoyle, a Head Start mother.

Ice cream for the party was donated by Mrs. Ruth Fallon, a friend of the program, and by the new Friendly's Ice Cream Shop in Arlington. Music was provided by William Marchese playing his accordion.

Decorations for the hall were made by Head Start mothers, Mrs. Edward Farrar and Mrs. John Pellegrino. Shopping and wrapping of gifts was done by Head Start mothers, Mrs. Ruth Bonini, Mrs. Venita Giles and Mrs. Charles Cipriano.

Where Is Prejudice

Where is prejudice? This was the topic discussed at the Arlington Civil Rights monthly meeting, Jan. 22, at the Park Avenue Congregational Church.

At the beginning of the evening the audience viewed the film "Where Is Prejudice?" prepared for National Educational Television with narration by Dr. Max Birnbaum, Director of the Human Relations Laboratory at Boston University Human Relations Center.

This film revealed that prejudice is decidedly found among the educated middle class.

College students of several races and creeds are shown at their week long workshop on prejudice held this past summer in Gloucester, Mass.

At the beginning of the week, all insisted they had no prejudice. As the week progressed, however, their latent hostility surfaced, and these young people came to realize that they were indeed prejudiced.

This revealing documentary was followed by round table discussions led by personnel from the B.U. Human Relations Center.

The next ACRC meeting will be held Feb. 26.

New Data Processing Course

At a recent meeting of the Arlington School Committee, permission was granted to the Arlington school department to incorporate into the school system a three-year course in data processing.

Plans for the new course are presently being formulated by Mr. Edmund Lewis, director of Arlington Technical High School. The course will be made available to high school students in September, 1968, if a sufficient number of applications are received from qualified students, and a sufficient number pass the aptitude test.

Data processing instruction was first introduced in Arlington in 1963, with a two-year post-graduate course. At that time it was felt that instruction in the data processing field was too advanced and complicated for a student with less than four years of high school, and a strong academic background.

A careful analysis made recently, however, has revealed that a number of high school students at the grade eleven level do have the ability and maturity to cope with the subject matter contained in a data processing curriculum.

Admission to the course will be on a competitive basis, with those judged most likely to succeed given the opportunity to enroll.

No drastic change in the original data processing curriculum is being planned. But the rate of progress will be slowed down and as a result it will take three years to complete the course formerly completed in two years.

The program is being arranged so that a student's basic high school education will not be seriously interrupted. Provisions are being made so that a student may take four major subjects at the high school and receive his high school diploma after completing grade twelve.

It has been pointed out, however, that a high school diploma will not be granted on the basis of subjects passed in data processing curriculum. To qualify for a diploma, a student must pass required high school subjects and earn points in accordance with Arlington High School policy.

Admission Requirements. To qualify for admission, a student must have completed grade ten with above average marks. The student must be 16 years of age or over, and have satisfactorily completed Algebra I.

The student must also be recommended by the principal or guidance counselor of the courses, and show evidence of ability to profit by instruction offered.

Admission will also be based on the applicant's conscientious aims and desires to pursue, in some manner, the occupation trained for. Final approval for admission must be received from the technical director.

The objective of the grade eleven course will be to train students to become tab operators. As tab operators they will be skilled in the operation and function of all unit record equipment such as keypunch, sorters, accounting machines, producers, collators, interpreters and verifiers. Duties of a tab operator include wiring, diagramming, development of new applications and basic systems designs.

Grade 12
The objective of the second year of the course is to train students to become console operators. Entrance is dependent on the successful completion of the grade eleven data processing course.

As a console operator, students would plan, organize and control computer equipment, and run and have responsibility for the production of accurate, satisfactory computer and unit record output.

Grade 13—Post Graduate.
To gain entrance to the post graduate course, students must have achieved above average marks in grades eleven and twelve in data processing. He must also have satisfactorily completed Algebra I and II, and plane geometry.

The objective of the third year course is to train students to become programmers, qualified to code and document EDP projects in a programming language, and to test written programs. The student will also be qualified to assist in preparing test data, testing and debugging programs.

A brochure outlining the proposed course has been prepared by Mr. Lewis, and has been presented to students in grade ten at the high school, to read and bring home to their parents.

"The office of Town Clerk, unlike other elective Town Offices, belongs to all of the people, not to any one person or political group. While participation in politics by the general public is very important, the Town Clerk must remain impartial and free of other political affiliations with possible accompanying political pressures. The Town Clerk is responsible for the conduct of elections and the recording of vital records, both public and private, and therefore, should not be in a position of allegiance to any candidate or group." Assistant Town Clerk Mary Farrington made this statement after nominations closed last week for this important office for which she is a candidate at the coming Town Election in March.

Miss Farrington continued, "I do not now nor have I in the past held any elective office, supported any candidate for elective office nor been affiliated with any political group because of the nature of my employment with the Town of Arlington. I was promoted to the position of Assistant Town Clerk in 1961 by Mrs. Powers, after having served as Assistant Registrar of Voters since 1953, by appointment of the late Mr. James Golden. In these capacities, I have had a considerable amount of first hand experience and have become thoroughly familiar with the many and varied duties of Town Clerk, having actually been required to perform these duties in the absence of the Town Clerk.

Two Win Eagle Scout Awards

Boy Scout Troop 308, sponsored by the Pleasant Street Congregational Church, had the rare privilege of a double Eagle Scout installation, Jan. 29.

Scout Philip G. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Smith, 81 Kensington pk., Arlington and Scout Gary K. Anderson, son of Dr. and Mrs. Lawrence H. Anderson, 19 Tomahawk rd., Arlington were installed by Mr. Philip W. Alsen of the Minuteman Council of the Boy Scouts of America.

The opening ceremony was conducted by Troop 308, Harry O. Austin, Chairman of the Troop Committee, welcomed the guests to the occasion. The Rev. Wilbur D. Conaday of the Park Avenue Congregational Church in the absence of Dr. Stuart C. Haskins, the Troop Chaplain, who was ill, gave the invocation.

The Court of Honor convened under the Clerk, Harry O. Austin.

The ceremonies included the following participants: Chairman Philip W. Alsen, Clerk Harry O. Austin, Official Harry H. Baldwin, III, Scouts David Baldwin and Mark Wanamaker.

The Presentation was by Council Commissioner Kenneth A. Cameron in the absence of Scout Master Walter G. Hiferty, and the Rev. Robert L. Casey of St. Agnes Church gave the benediction. Distinguished guests included Neighborhood Commissioner V. Robert Gagosian, District Commissioner Daniel Uenas, and representatives from the Minuteman Council.

Both Eagle Scouts are seniors at Arlington High school and plan to attend New Eng-retiring from the office of Town Clerk. I choose to run for this office for which I have been specifically trained because of my sincere and serious interest in continuing the policies of prompt, efficient, courteous and impartial service always carried out by Mrs. Powers, Mr. Golden, and their predecessors.

The citizens of Arlington may ensure continuance of these services to which they are entitled as they cast their votes at the coming Annual Town Election on March 27. Miss Farrington concluded.

land colleges in the fall. Besides being associated in scouting for the past seven years, they are close personal friends, and share the honor of being students under Council Commissioner Kenneth A. Cameron.

Eagle Scout Smith attended the Parmenter School when Commissioner Cameron was principal there and Eagle Scout Anderson attended the Stratton School where Commissioner Cameron is principal. Both boys plan to attend a Lynnfield banquet on Feb. 8, 1968 honoring boys who have achieved scouting's highest honor—the Eagle Scout Award.

Refreshments for the scouts, their parents and honored guests concluded the program.

Your PHARMACIST SPEAKS

H. R. Partamoun, D.S., Reg. Ph.

The Egyptians were only one of many early peoples who advanced the science of healing. Sanitation for health reasons is noted as early as 600 B.C. with the construction of a sewer system in Rome. The Japanese had built a pretty good medical system around the techniques of massage and acupuncture, or needling. The Hindus of Asia practiced extremely advanced surgery except for one thing: they never bothered to tie off bleeding arteries and most patients died. Even post-mortem "caesarian" section was practiced as early as 600 B.C. The Jews introduced circumcision to minimize infection, and they developed roller bandages as splints for broken bones. These techniques were practiced by rabbis rather than doctors.

Healing comes about in many ways. Important in this process is the service rendered by your pharmacist. Rely on the expert training of those serving you at RAWSON PHARMACY, 201 Broadway. Free prescription pickup and delivery. Tel. 648-1981.

Candidate

Mrs. Velma B. Brown is seeking re-election to the School Committee.

In announcing her candidacy she said: "It has been a great privilege and pleasure for me to serve on the Committee and I, sincerely, appreciate the confidence in my ability that the voters of this town have expressed. To my mind, there is no greater civic contribution than service on the School Committee; nevertheless, I realize, fully, that a grave responsibility rests on every member in order to develop the best possible education and training for the youth of Arlington and at the same time to bear in mind the town's financial ability to pay for the high standards of our schools and the excellent quality of our teachers."

"Our school system offers a very comprehensive program with educational opportunities for all children commensurate with the learning potential of each. It encompasses programs for the retarded children, the academically talented, a post-graduate course in Electronic Data Processing for Programming, kindergarten and a tailoring of each course, in so far as possible, to meet the individual needs of each pupil. However, it is necessary, continually, to reassess the effectiveness of our educational system and re-evaluate its aims, purposes and programs in the light of the more complex problems facing our ever changing world."

"We cannot afford to stand still but must improve our curriculum, maintain a high quality of teacher personnel, and where change is indicated, after careful consideration and study, initiate new programs with such adjustments and innovations as are necessary."

"I sincerely hope that the voters of Arlington will feel that my education, background and conscientious service and experience on the Committee for the past nine years qualify me for re-election."

"As a long time resident of Arlington, I have, actively, participated in town affairs, as a Town Meeting member for fifteen years and in church and charitable work. I am a graduate of Thayer Academy and received my B.A. degree with honor from Mt. Holyoke College. I have done PTA and School Committee work on the national, state and local levels and am at present the liaison delegate of the Massachusetts Association of School Committees to the Massachusetts Congress of Parents and Teachers."

"We have three children, all of whom received or are receiving their education in the Arlington Public Schools: William, a graduate of Tufts University, is now a Lieutenant in the Army attached to the Adjutant General's Staff at Fort Benning, Georgia; Gail is a Junior at the University of Massachusetts and Carol is a Junior at Arlington High School."

"I have exerted every effort to translate the wishes of the community in educational matters to seek the necessary funds to insure our comprehensive program and to study and evaluate new ideas in curriculum and methods in order to keep the Arlington School system among the best in the Commonwealth."

Plan Dinner Dance

The Elks of Arlington meet with the Retarded Children's Association of Arlington to plan the gala Dinner-Dance which is to take place at the Lawrence Light Guard Armory in Medford on Mar. 30. Pictured above at the Elks Lodge are, seated, l. to r., Mrs. David Hughes, special events chairman; and Mrs. Emmanuel Lembidakis, publicity chairman of the Retarded Children's Association. Standing, l. to r., are James A. Coffey, Elks general chairman of the Dinner-Dance; George M. Halpin, executive board of the Retarded Children's Association; Atty. Robert B. Clifford, past Exalted Ruler of Elks, and James D. Murray, present Exalted Ruler, serving as co-chairmen of the Ticket Committee.

The Elks of Arlington, 1435, announces their sponsorship of a "Dinner-Dance" March 30, at the Lawrence Light Guard Armory, High st., Medford, to benefit the retarded of Arlington. The total net proceeds of this great effort will be donated to the Arlington Chapter of the Greater Boston Association for Retarded Children in support of their programs.

The Arlington Elks, accepting their centennial celebration slogan, "A proud past, a challenging future," have come forth to involve themselves in yet another community service. By raising large sums of money, they hope to bring to the community, more forcefully, the needs of the retarded.

Continuing their deep concern for the retarded in our town, having housed the first pre-school Nursery Program for the Retarded Children of Arlington in 1963, and having contributed generously each year to the Fund Drive for these children, the Elks have now initiated the first of what they plan to be an Annual DINNER-DANCE whose complete net proceeds will make possible new and much needed programs.

A Decorated Man

F. Stanley Glynn, former Trustee of Robbins Library and son of Mrs. F. S. Glynn, 60 Dow Ave., was decorated by H. M. Hassan, II, King of Morocco, Jan. 12 with the Order of Ouissam Alaouite, in recognition of engineering services in connection with the Hassan Addakhl dam on the Ziz River in the Moroccan province of Tafilalet.

Following a disastrous flood which destroyed homes of 2500 people in November of 1965, Mr. Glynn was sent to Morocco by the New York consulting engineering firm of Tippetts, Abbott, McCarthy, and Stratton to organize an engineering office to carry out the instructions of the King for the construction of a dam that would prevent the recurrence of such a disaster and provide irrigation water for 50,000 acres in the vicinity of the great date palmery near Elound, at the edge of the Moroccan Sahara.

January 12, 1968 marked the beginning of construction work on this dam, the largest to be undertaken in the kingdom to date. Some 50,000 people are reported to have attended in a colorful ceremony at Ksar es Souk in the province of Tafilalet.

Present were the members of the Interministerial Commission for the dam: Dr. Mohamed Benhima, Prime Minister; General Oufkir, Minister of the Interior; and Governor of the Bank of Morocco Zeghari.

Also present were the representatives of the Diplomatic Corps, including the Charge d'Affaires of the United States d'Affaires of the U. S. Embassy.

A Busy Man
For the past 15 years since leaving Arlington Mr. Glynn has been busy in some far corners of the world as a civil engineer. He worked in Iceland on construction of the airbases at Kelflavik, in the north polar regions on the investigations for the Dew Line, on the U. S. government installations in Spain, supervised the construction of the Hymath dam in Turkey and studied a 750,000-acre irrigation development in the south of that country, supervised the construction of a hydroelectric plant in the Andes of Colombia, before being sent as the engineering manager of his firm's activities in Morocco.

During an interview with the press with Mr. Glynn in Rabat Mr. Glynn referred with much affection to his former associates in Arlington and particularly to the late Leonard Wood whom he was fortunate to see a few days before his death in June, 1965.
